Artist Biography 2022:

I am a self-taught creative artist, specialising in acrylic painting, mandala stone art and Graphic Design. I've always loved everything about art and design and really enjoy learning new and amazing skills from artists past and present. My work focuses on a breadth of subjects, from animals, nature, space, and patterns. At college I studied graphic design before continuing my studies in university. During my final year exhibition, I decided to revisit my love of traditional art and this is when I came across the art of stippling a technique used to create detailed imagery using the application of dots.

Amazed at how my work was received I decided to expand the technique of dot painting further, until I came across the art of rock painting whilst on a family holiday. Armed with a handful of stones, acrylic paint, and dotting tools I began to teach myself the art of mandala design. Over time the complexity of my designs grew as did my own custom paintings and illustrations.

Since then, I've created varying artworks for a wide range of audiences, which in turn has given me so much confidence in sharing my work and seeing how people react.
