Biography

Molly has experimented, played and worked with textiles since childhood. Molly has mastered a wide repertoire of skills in both Knitting and Sewing. But sewing is where her strongest passion lies. The back bone of this is in making clothes. However, she has a keen interest in exploring the variety of ways to embellish fabrics, especially including Shisha embroidery, free motion embroidery and Quilting. It might look like these are all just different tangled threads, but Molly aims to bring it all together into a beautiful fabric of unique wearable art. She also teaches workshops both locally and at the Knitting and Stitching Shows.

Throughout Molly's adult life she has been aware of the growing concerns about 'Climate Change' and has been involved in activism in a variety of ways. Recently she has become aware of the 'Craftivist' movement and is keen to combine passion for sewing with the making of effective 'political' statements. Molly will have a piece of work visitors are invited to add stitches too.
